

The Kentucky Section of the American Institute for Professional Geologists

Presents the Annual

DARWIN LECTURE SERIES

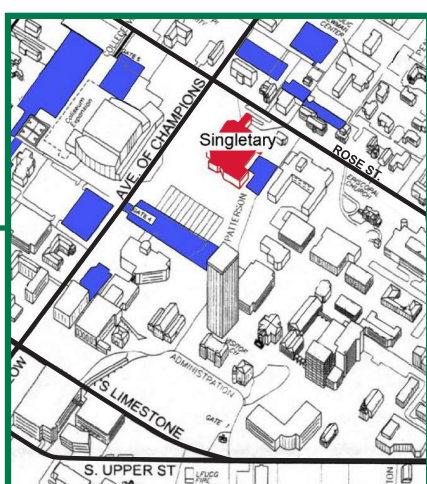

FREE
Public
Welcome

Darwin: Demon or Revolutionary?

An Intellectual Discussion

Thursday
February 16
2012
7:00 p.m.

Singletary Center
for the Arts
Recital Hall
University of Kentucky
Lexington

Parking
Is available in the blue E (employee)
surface lots after 5:30 p.m.

Our Speaker:

Eugenie C. Scott

Executive Director, National Center
for Science Education
University of Missouri
(Physical Anthropology)

Eugenie Scott has been both a researcher and an activist in the creationism/evolution controversy for over 25 years, and can address many components of this controversy, including educational, legal, scientific, religious, and social issues. A dynamic speaker, she offers stimulating and thought-provoking as well as entertaining lectures and workshops.

Meet the speaker after the talk

Sponsors:

For more information contact Richard Smath: rsmath@uky.edu or (859) 323-0503